3.0 DISCRIMINATION

- 3.2 However, the above clause shall not apply when such treatment is within the law and determined by lawful requirements.
- 3.3 The Board shall ensure that all station structures, practices, policies and guidelines are free from direct or indirect discrimination on all relevant legislative grounds (refer Schedule 1).
- 3.4 The Board shall endeavour to ensure that all committees have adequate gender balance and wherever possible such committees are broadly representative of the station membership and culture. This should include co-option of participants where any deficiency exists.
- 3.5 All directors have a particular responsibility to ensure that the station is free from discrimination and discriminatory harassment, and that relevant policies and guidelines with regard to the resolution of complaints are followed.

- 4.2 The Board shall ensure that all complaints are taken seriously, treated sensitively and investigated fairly and impartially.
- 4.3 The Board shall follow the Internal Conflict Resolution Policy in dealing with complaints received in relation to this policy and endeavour to ensure a prompt and effective response.

5.0 USE OF STATION PREMISES

- 5.1 Station personnel issued with a station access code must not allow this code to become known by any other person. In the event that this occurs, the offending person will be held liable for any issues that occur as a result and will be dismissed if this rule is breached.
- 5.2 All station personnel must clear their own station mailbox each time they visit the station and not use it as a 'storage locker.'

- 5.3 All personnel must ensure that they and people under their control do not eat or drink in any studio. This also applies to smoking which is prohibited in all parts of station premises.
- 5.4 All station volunteers have rights and responsibilities. These are outlined in Schedule 2 of this policy. The Board is responsible to ensure that the rights of volunteers are observed.

Schedule 1 – Discrimination

Discrimination is defined as treating one person less favourably than another in similar circumstances/situation, when both should be treated the same.

Both Commonwealth and Victorian legislation defines less favourable treatment as being unlawful discrimination on the following basis:

Victorian

- Nationality or ethnic origin
- Sex
- Marital status
- Parental status - family responsibilities/or childlessness
- Pregnancy
- Religion
- Political beliefs or affiliations
- Physical, sensory, intellectual, or psychiatric impairment or disability, whether present, past, possible future or imputed and including mental illness or disorder, medical record and presence in the body of organisms causing disease, including AIDS or HIV
- Age
- Industrial activity
- Lawful sexual activity
- Physical features
- Status as a carer
- Gender identity
- Breast feeding
- Sexual orientation
- Personal association with someone who has one of the above attributes.

Further, Commonwealth legislation also prohibits discrimination on the basis of:

- Colour
- Social origin
- Criminal record
- Trade union activity
- Immigration or that of a relative or associate
- Medical record
- Age (not withstanding compulsory retirement)
- Sexual preference
- Sexual harassment

Equal opportunity legislation also prohibits the victimisation of individuals, who intend to make a complaint, or, make a complaint.

Indirect Discrimination

A separate category of discrimination contained within legislation relates to indirect or "process" discrimination. Indirect discrimination occurs when a rule, practice or policy, which at face value appears to be neutral in effect, has an unequal or disproportionate impact on a group. An example of indirect discrimination could involve the imposing of "seniority" or minimum service restrictions on eligibility for promotion. This could indirectly discriminate against women because more women than men spend time out of the work force bearing and rearing children.
